

FEELfree Healthy remuneration policy

A health concept that not only ensures a healthier workforce, but also increases the satisfaction, loyalty and motivation of your employees and at the same time increases employer attractiveness? That's exactly what FEELfree enables you to do.

A health concept that appeals to all employees

With FEELfree, you offer your employees – and those who would like to become employees – excellent and flexible health benefits.

The process is simple: You decide on the yearly health budget and your employees can freely choose exactly the health services they need. The benefits are designed to fit the entire workforce – whether old or young, male or female, with statutory or private insurance, healthy or sick. And when an individual's health is urgently at stake, sensible service modules are available 24/7.

FEELfree improves sustainability in your company. View testimonial here:
